

Camille Broadhurst

Dip. Law, B.ArtTh.

Senior Associate

Camille Broadhurst is a highly skilled and respected lawyer based in Sydney, Australia. With a passion for providing exceptional client service, she works closely with her clients to create asset protective, tax-effective, and flexible estate plans that align with their desires and philosophies.

Camille's expertise in estate planning covers a wide range of areas. She has extensive experience advising on and preparing estate planning documents, including Wills, Enduring Powers of Attorney, Forms of Enduring Guardianship, Binding Death Nominations, and Memoranda of Wishes. Her meticulous approach ensures that each client's unique circumstances are carefully considered and that their affairs are well-organised and secure.

In addition to document preparation, Camille offers guidance on various aspects of estate planning. She helps clients navigate testamentary trusts, life interests, rights to reside, and discretionary trusts, providing tailored solutions to meet their specific needs. Camille is also well-versed in superannuation matters, including self-managed superannuation funds, variations, and death benefit nominations.

Camille assists clients with inter-generational transfers and family agreements, ensuring a smooth transition of assets and wealth. She also provides valuable advice on inter-family loans and gifts, as well as assessing risk profiles, including those related to relationship breakdowns, claims under the Succession Act, and claims by pursuing creditors.

Having worked with medium to high-net-worth private clients with diverse wealth structures, Camille is adept at representing their interests and achieving favourable outcomes. She has also represented both executors and beneficiaries in relation to deceased estates, providing comprehensive support throughout the estate administration process.

Camille holds a Diploma of Law from the Legal Profession Admission Board and a Bachelor of Art History from the University of New South Wales. Her qualifications, combined with her expertise and dedication, make her the ideal choice for individuals seeking professional estate planning solutions in Sydney. With Camille Broadhurst by their side, clients can trust that their estate matters will be handled with exceptional care and attention to detail.
